Career

I didn't go anywhere after 11th grade because I didn't see the point in going just for the diploma, because I hadn't found the direction in which I wanted to develop yet and decided to start with my family because I wanted to be a young mother. When my children were born, I began to study psychology and esotericism in parallel, and found an occupation to my liking. I help people develop spiritually, find a core and self-confidence through spiritual practices with a certain tool - sadhu boards (nail standing) I found my place in this and am actively developing in this direction.
