Your achievements.

Write down the main achievements in your life (minimum 50 words)* For example: at school, university, at work, sports achievements, etc.

Since childhood, I have been actively involved in sports, trying myself in various disciplines. Participation in competitions brought me not only joy, but also victories, which became an important part of my history. In addition to sports, I also showed myself in creativity. For example, I proudly remember how I became the winner of a drawing competition among orphanages in St. Petersburg. I also won a reading competition, which allowed me to reveal my talent and self-confidence. But perhaps one of my greatest passions is cooking. I love experimenting in the kitchen, creating a variety of dishes that delight not only me, but also my loved ones. Having a positive attitude and loving life is something I'm really proud of. I believe that every day brings new opportunities and I happily embrace them with an open heart.

Information on personality traits

Goals in life

My goals in life are closely related to creating a strong and happy family. I dream of building a harmonious relationship based on mutual respect, support and love. For me, family is the foundation that gives strength and inspiration to achieve other goals. I strive to create a cozy home where warmth and understanding will reign, and where my loved ones will always feel protected and loved.

Describe your personality

I am a cheerful and positive girl with a wide soul who is always ready to share my warmth and energy with others. I am often called the life of the party, because I love to communicate, laugh and create an atmosphere of joy and fun around me. Animals hold a special place in my heart - I truly love them and find them a source of inspiration and peace. I have a pet corn snake named Hose, who has become part of my family and brings me a lot of joy. Drawing is my favorite pastime, which allows me to express my emotions and fantasies on paper. I put a piece of my soul into every stroke, creating unique and vibrant images. In addition, I love immersing myself in the world of cinema and books. Dramas about love touch me to the core, and science fiction allows me to dream and fantasize. Reading books is another hobby of mine that helps me expand my horizons and find new ideas for creativity.

Why I decided to become a donor?

❑ became a donor because I sincerely believe in helping other people. After all, sometimes fate puts difficult tests before someone - the inability to experience the joy of motherhood... But the desire to give happiness to others is stronger than any obstacles. ❑'y goal is simple: to give everyone a chance to feel the miracle of the birth of a child and together enjoy every smile of the babies. ❑
